By Vanseven Co.,Ltd.

At Hobbit House, located in a small village near Khao Yai National Park, a three hours' drive away from Bangkok, the owner Chanikul even calls himself Bilbo Baggins. Currently based in London, Chanikul wrote on his listing site that he left his Hobbit village 12 years ago and his house built with "love and passion" for The Hobbit films. He's even in the process extending the house to create a village by mid-2015. In the meantime, you can have fun with his collection of "Hobbit entertainment" such as books, costumes and Lego sets. That is, if all The Lord of the Rings and The Hobbit movies aren't enough to keep you occupied.

Secret Art Garden

What was once an open corn field, now Secret Art Garden is filled with big trees and colorful flowers. Secret Art Garden is a brainchild of a couple whose dream was to create a manmade forest on an empty land. Over 20 years have passed; we now witness the great the result of their work, a manmade forest with more than 10,000 trees.

Unlike any other natural or botanical gardens, "Secret Art Garden" is where the hidden beauty of art lies. Within and throughout the garden, plants cover and enhance artistic details, sculptures and other artwork which are featured. The "secrets" hidden within the walls of the garden are like treasure hidden away from prying eyes or time itself.

Today, we hand you the key to unlock the door to a place where art and nature blend harmoniously. Secret Art Garden serves as the destination where families and friends can enjoy and appreciate the beauty of nature together with artistic influence and splendor.
